

Case Study: Securing Client Records in Small Office Space

Client: Arlington Brief Therapy Counselor

Situation:

- Government contract required counseling office to secure sensitive psychiatric records and evaluations.
- Limited office space left no room for swinging or sliding doors.

Solution:

- Rollok doors met security requirements even before the HIPAA privacy mandate.
- Rollok doors improved space efficiency and mobility within a confined area.

Quote:

" We used the doors every day for four years and never had a problem.

We were HIPAA compliant and ready when the law came into effect. "

Jayne Wakeham M.A.
Licensed Professional Counselor
Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist
Arlington Brief Therapy Associates

